OpenEd Job Posting
Course Instructor – Intensive Sex Therapy Training Program (001)

Teaching Opportunity

The University of Guelph’s Department of Family Relations and Applied Nutrition (FRAN) and Open Learning and Educational Support (OpenEd) is recruiting an AASECT Certified Member to design and instruct the Intensive Sex Therapy Training Program (2009001).

Course Overview

The Intensive Sex Therapy Training Program is a classroom-based intensive five-day program delivered on the University of Guelph campus. The program provides specialized training in sex counselling and therapy and is designed to aid both current and future practitioners to work in the field of sexuality.

By the end of this course, participants will have a framework for addressing clinical issues involving sexual, relational and physiological components. This course is intentionally designed to meet professional accreditation core competencies for American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT) and American Association of Sexuality Educators, Counsellors and Therapists (AASECT).

Position Description

We are looking for an AASECT Certified Member to design and instruct the Intensive Sex Therapy Training Program, which will be offered to successful Open Learning program student applicants in fall 2018 or winter 2019. Dates will be confirmed upon candidate selection.

Instructor Responsibilities

- Develop course curriculum—including learning outcomes, schedule, assessments, teaching/learning activities, etc.—for a five-day educational program that meets University of Guelph standards for graduate studies and meets professional accreditation core competencies for AAMFT and AASECT.
- Prepare, edit and submit a course outline and AASECT CE Single Event application that meets the requirements of and is approved by AASECT.
- Review Open Learning program student course enrolment applications, select students, and communicate with all Open Learning program student applicants regarding their status (approved or denied).
• Teach classroom-based course, and as needed, arrange schedule and teaching assignments with guest speakers to ensure delivery of the developed course curriculum.
• Prepare and provide content for CourseLink (D2L), the University of Guelph’s online learning management system, which will be used to assist course delivery (i.e., content, resources, assessments, grading, feedback and course communications).
• Provide an up-to-date CV/resume, photograph and brief biography.
• Grade all assignments and quizzes and provide timely and appropriate oral and written student feedback.
• Be available as needed to re-read papers or exams, attend appeals, participate in cases of academic misconduct, and grade or re-grade late papers or exams.

Instructor Qualifications, Skills and Abilities
• Current and active status as an AASECT Certified Member
• Extensive clinical experience related to the subject matter
• University graduate degree from an accredited institution in a related subject area
• Extensive experience designing, developing and facilitating a classroom-based course, preferably at the college or university level
• Personal commitment to best practices in teaching, learning and student success
• Knowledge of current resources and research in the subject matter, and experience applying them within a clinical setting
• Confidence with computer technology and an ability to master an online learning management system
• Experience teaching or learning online is an asset
• Familiarity with, and ability to, access academic and community resources
• Flexible, resourceful, detail-oriented, creative and self-motivated
• Exceptional oral/written communication, organizational and time management skills
• Capacity to work independently and collaboratively and to deliver within tight deadlines
• Passionate about learning, teaching and subject matter

Program Information
Visit the Intensive Sex Therapy Training Program course description page on the OpenEd website or the Guelph Sexuality Conference website to learn more about the program.

Job Location
Course development work can be completed remotely as long as the selected individual is available to attend virtual meetings during normal EST business hours. The individual must be on the University of Guelph campus to deliver the course during the five-day period discussed and confirmed during the instructor selection and onboarding process. Travel and accommodation can be provided during the course period.
To Apply

Please submit a cover letter and up-to-date CV/resume outlining your experience and qualifications. Submit your application as one file in Word or PDF format via email to Erin Camm, manager program development.

We thank all applicants for their interest in this position. Only applicants selected for an interview will be contacted.
